

Children Activity Kits

Activity kits are used to entertain and reward children while waiting to see the physician. Those who are ill and in need of medical care receive a lot of attention, including a new set of clothing to help them stay healthy. Activity kits can be used as a reward to children who have remained healthy, but are waiting for extended periods of time while siblings are being seen and treated.

Necklace Kits;

- One thin cord, approximately 22" - 24" long,
- Several beads to be strung, packed into a snack-size Baggie

Bubbles:

- Small children size container where children can blow and play with bubbles.